TASTE ISN'T BAD

'City Water Better Due To Chlorine'

The taste of Daly City's water isn't bad at all and chlorination will continue here until tests show it is fully safe from a bacteria standpoint, Public Works Director Otis Calhoun told the city council Monday night.

Calhoun's comments came after Councilman Joseph Verducci asked if the chlorination was a steady process and if DC were using a higher percentage of chlorine than San Francisco.

Calhoun explained that chlorination is done daily and that San Francisco uses much more chlorine than Daly City in its water improvement program.

Calhoun noted that chlorination was authorized here after water tests showed a mounting bacteria rate. Bad-tasting water complaints subsequently were made by residents who thought the chlorine content was too high. Calhoun said that after a period of four to six months, he was instructed to discontinue the chlorination. This was in June.

But more tests showed increased bacteria in the water and chlorination was resumed on August 10.

Calhoun challeged the report of the county health inspector who said he believed Daly City, using San Francisco water, was over-chlorinating in the process. The Daly City department head said San Francisco's chlorination rate and DC's are balanced so that over-chlorination does not occur.

Ordinance On Dogs Is Aired

First reading of Daly City's new codified animal ordinance was held by the city council Monday night.

Acting City Manager Paul Hupf said the ordinance doesn't change existing policies on the number of pets an individual may have or on the dog leashing law, but it merely pinpoints all city requirements on the keeping of pets.

The ordinance also was drafted to be consistent with county regulations on animal pound service.

Persons wishing more information on the animal ordinance can examine copies of it in the city clerk's office, 75 Wellington avenue.

The council also conducted its first reading of the new city bicycle license ordinance. Registration of all bikes, for an individual fee of $1, starts next week. Call the police department for more particulars.

WEEDS MUST GO OR RESIDENTS WILL PAY FEES

There were no oral protests Monday night as the council passed its annual weed abatement resolution.

All property owners who fail to eliminate weeds on vacant lots as instructed by posted notices will be charged if city firemen have to do the job. The fees will be attached to the affected individuals' tax bills.

FORMER Daly City housewife, Mrs. Oleta Ruffer, 37, who lived at 189 Alexander street, has been found guilty of contributing to the delinquency of a minor at her home and faces sentencing on Friday, September 4, in Superior Court.

COUNCIL OK'S LOW TAX RATE FOR PEAK BUDGET

FIRE CHIEF Elmer Kennedy of Daly City gets ready to step into his new car. His old car will be used as the Bureau of Fire Prevention vehicle when that part of the department is organized within two or three months. The older car had 50,000 miles on it and was a 1951 model.

City Sets Hunt For Manager

City councilmen, who asked for the resignation of City Manager George Watts last week, Monday night set the machinery in motion for selection of a new administrator.

The council has moved to utilize the services of the League of California Cities and the State Personnel Board in determining Watts' successor.

Howard Gardner, associate director of the League of California Cities, has agreed to supply the council with a list of about 30 presently employed California city managers who are regarded as highly competent.

The council will review this list, check the backgrounds of these men, then forward their names to the State Personnel Board. The latter agency will then be instructed to recruit and screen candidates for the job here, finally recommending a list of the top five.

The council has agreed to pick among these five after interviewing and personally investigating these applicants.

Serving as acting city manager temporarily is City Attorney Paul Hupf, former city councilman here.

The council has authorized an immediate "outside" audit of the city's books by accountants Leonard Bullis of San Francisco and Charles Ethel of Westlake.

City Hears New Zita Annex Bid

Public hearing was held Monday night before the city council on Zita Corporation's request for the annexation to Daly City of a 11½ acre parcel on the Christen lands south of McKeon's St. Francis Heights.

The council will meet next week with George McKeon to seal the agreement and discuss McKeon's plans for a "major annexation soon in the same vicinity."

Hillside Blvd. Woman Suicide By Auto Fumes

Neighbors of Georgia O'Connell, 280 Hillside boulevard, became suspicious when they heard a car's motor running in her garage and knew that she did not drive.

Police arrived Saturday evening and peered through a slot in the mail box. Officer Matthew Murray said he saw the O'Connell woman lying across the back seat of the car.

Murray and Sergeants David Hansen and Charles Terry broke in through the garage door. Oxygen was administered by the fire department. Broadmoor ambulance arrived and brought the woman to Junipero Serra Hospital, but treatment there proved of no avail as she was pronounced dead.

She left a suicide note and a vial of pills were also found in her purse, police said.

Anything Goes Down The Drain

An "extremely valuable" discovery was made by North San Mateo County Sanitation District officials Tuesday afternoon.

Anyone missing an upper plate of teeth, gold - filled in front, can recover it by hurrying to the sanitation district office off Lake Merced boulevard in Westlake next to the fire station.

Marie Muylaert, sanitation secretary, said the teeth showed up in a sewer.

NIANTIC HOME FIRE DAMAGES SET AT $2500

Daniel Stamm and his family had to purchase a new wardrobe after a fire burned $1000 worth of clothing in a closet at the 726 Niantic avenue address last Wednesday afternoon.

Besides the $1000 worth of clothes that went up in flames, $1500 damage was done to the bedroom and closet itself.

Fire department officials believe the fire started in an Easter basket that Stamm's children, John, 5, Karen, 9, and Marcia, 11, had left in the closet.

A babysitter was with the young boy in another part of the house while the two girls were playing in the closet. Firemen took 20 minutes to extinguish the blaze.

COUNCIL CITES BERT L. MERRITT

The city council Monday night adjourned its meeting with a minute of silence in reverence of Bert L. Merritt, city councilman here in the mid-1940s who died last week in San Bruno after a lengthy illness. Funeral services were conducted at Lasswell's for the former electrician.

City's $20,000 Water Survey 'Not So Good'

Councilmen aren't satisfied one bit with the monthly progress report of Washington and Associates on Daly City's $20,000 master water survey.

Paul Hupf, acting city manager, advised the council to discuss the discrepancies at length next week in their study session before deciding whether to make the city's monthly payment to the outside firm.

Councilmen Joseph Verducci and Frank Pacelli were extremely critical of the first report. Both said it was so paltry that it hardly warranted payment, considering the price the city is paying for the many-months survey.

SALES TAX MAIN FACTOR

Total Is $156,929 Over Last Year But Levy Drops 2 Cents

Daly City councilmen Monday night adopted a 90-cent property tax rate and a record $1,549,868 new fiscal budget to serve their community of almost 39,000 residents.

The new budget represents a $156,929 increase over the last fiscal budget of $1,392,939. This was financed by a 92-cents per $100 valuation tax rate.

CITY attorney Paul Hupf, 37-year-old Westlake resident and former city councilman, is acting city manager via council authorization pending their selection of a new administrator to succeed George W. Watts.

Finance Director Joseph Arch cited the new budget as a "close, highly economical and efficiently prepared budget by the city manager," and Councilman Joseph Verducci declared that sales tax funds were responsible for the tax reduction and expanded capital improvements program.

The 90 cents basic tax consists of 46 cents for the general fund, 12 cents for library, 15 cents for parks, 10 for retirement and 7 cents for bond interest and redemption.

Last fiscal year's 92 cents rate had 46 cents for general fund, 7 here for library and 10 to the county; 18 for parks, 15 for retirement, and 8 for bond interest and redemption.

Arch explained that Daly City residents actually would be paying 12 cents less than last fiscal year because the county no longer assesses residents a library tax (the city handles it now at a lower overall rate). Last year local homeowners paid 10 cents library tax to the county and the 92 cents property tax. Henceforth the basic total levy here is only 90 cents.

The council hasn't as yet ratified the capital outlay program for fiscal '59-'60. This adoption is due next week and figures to amount to an expenditure of almost $480,000.

Under the council's sales tax ordinance, adopted in April last year and upheld at the polls this spring, sales tax funds are split equally. One half goes for capital improvements and the remaining 50 percent to help keep the property tax down. To divert sales tax funds elsewhere, a two-thirds vote of Daly City residents is necessary.

The new budget includes additional outlays for seven more firemen, two new police officers, and five percent across the board wage boost for all city employees. Provision also has been made for the establishment of the position of police lieutenant. An appointment is to be made within the next few weeks.

Arch's breakdown on the $156,929 increase in the budget by departments shows additional expenditures this fiscal year as follows:

General government, $6087 more; public safety, $73,242 (firemen and police); streets, $17,225; recreation, $12,407; public utilities, $44,577; retirement, $8500, and miscellaneous, $420.

Only parks and library expenditures are lower. The

RIFLE-TOTING STORE ROBBERS GET $98 HERE

"Give it to me or I'll blow your guts out," said a man armed with a .22 caliber rifle to Lloyd Schuler, 86 Los Olivos avenue, while demanding three one dollar bills Schuler was holding in his hand at Young's Grocery, 108 Los Olivos avenue, Sunday night just before 10 o'clock.

The bandit and two accomplices also took $95 from the cash register of Young N. Jang's store. Schuler and Dolores Wagner, 121 Hillcrest drive, were in the store when the three entered. Schuler did not want to surrender the three dollar bills he was holding but complied with the thief's so ably emphasized request.

Jang, 28-year-old owner of the store, described the rifle wielder as being "extremely nervous." He gave the license number of the car the men escaped in. Police are checking out the convertible's license which is registered to a Burbank, California man.

The three men were described as 19 or 20-years-old. The rifle toter was described as 5-8, 160 pounds, with black hair and a dark complexion. He wore a dark shirt and dark trousers. The man who looted the register is said to be 6-1, 210 pounds, and wore a brown sport coat. The third man, who shyly stood behind his rifled accomplice, was described as being of medium height and build.

PAL Benefit Bowl Tourney Gets Off To Rousing Start

The Daly City Police Athletic League bowling tournament, now being held at Johnny Swanson's Westlake Bowl is assured of being a success if the response of bowlers on opening day, August 23, is any indication.

A turn-out that exceeded expectations took to the lanes and brought broad smiles to the face of Fred Bertetta tourney chairman.

Fred has high hopes that the entry list will be a whopper when the last ball is sent down the alley on September 19, the closing date. All monies derived from this bowling tournament go towards outfitting youngsters in their various sports — baseball, basketball, football and bowling.

The cost is $2.75 per person for the three-game series and bowlers may bowl any time at their convenience. Lanes will be made available as soon as possible, according to Jim Grealish, Bowl manager.

Men and women, with averages, will be handicapped the difference from their 1959 Blue Book average and 200. Those without an average will compete in the novice class on a scratch basis.

The prize list is separate for both men and women in the handicap and novice divisions. A bowler may win more than one prize. If you bowl more than once and your scores are in the first 20 you will be allowed to select your first choice for your highest series and your second prize after the next nine bowlers have made their selections. There is no limit as to the prizes anyone can win as long as their series remains in the prize list.

Also for an additional 50 cents per game, keglers may enter the 3-6-9 contest. Any bowler who strikes in the third, sixth and ninth frames wins a bottle of liquor, donated by host Johnny Swanson. It is possible to win three bottles during the series.

Winners thus far are Roger Daubin and Police Captain Roy Beecher.

School days are not too far away and it is about this time that mother's thoughts are to resume her daytime bowling. Ladies' Day leagues are now being formed and will commence at 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. every day of the week. Call Marge Brown at the Bowl, PL 6-5777.

Outside Firm's Water Work Here Called Illegal

The council Monday evening angrily called for a new ordinance to prevent outside entities from installing water lines in Daly City.

Their action was prompted by a report from Public Works Director Otis Calhoun that California Water Service Company was installing water service to Callan Company's new apartments on Sullivan avenue behind the Serra theater. This is against city policy as Daly City handles its own water facilities.

Calhoun couldn't understand why Callan would authorize the outside firm in violation of city regulations.

The council referred the matter to the city attorney for an investigation. They also instructed him to consider drafting an ordinance on water restrictions.

Council Drops Ambulance Pact Over Insurance

The council terminated Daly City's contract with M&D Ambulance Company for emergency service Monday night after learning from acting City Manager Paul Hupf that the firm's insurance coverage failed to meet satisfactory requirements.

As a temporary measure until a new ambulance agreement is made with another firm, the council instructed the police department to ask for emergency ambulance service from the Broadmoor police.

Hupf said M&D's pact with the city, which expires this October, falls below the city-requested insurance coverage minimums of $100,000 to $200,000 in personal liability and $25,000 property damage.

Under the tieup with the city, the M&D firm answered all emergency calls and charged patients for the service. The city received no compensation and was not required to pay for the service.

De Bernardi Hits Council Policy For Hospital

Councilman Micheal DeBernardi, Monday night blasted fellow councilmen for wanting the county to take the lead in coordinating the north county hospital drive.

The gas station owner and former mayor opposed the resolution before the council that asks the board of supervisors to appoint a committee of representatives of DC, South San Francisco, Pacifica and adjacent unicorporated areas.

"This is an inter-city problem and I don't think we should lower ourselves and convey our home rule to the supervisors," DeBernardi declared.

Mayor Edward Dennis and Councilman Frank Pacelli countered in favor of Councilman Bob St. Clair's idea that the county should make the appointments.

Pacelli said St. Clair's resolution was to expedite the hospital and eliminate the confusion that has resulted from the fact that three separate north county groups are working independently for an adequate hospital.

St. Clair asked for the resolution last week, lashing the Leo Ryan-commanded group in South San Francisco for its failure to work for a "fully representative study that would give all communities involved a fair voice in the hospital project."

Ryan, South SF councilman and state assembly candidate, to date has made but light feelers to Daly City's hospital committee, headed by St. Clair, and none at all to the Physicians Hospital Committee, chairmanned by Dr. Sanford Marcus of Westlake.

Pacelli told DeBernardi Monday night that County Manager Bob Stallings feels a supervisor-appointed committee might get faster results.

DeBernardi still maintains, however, that mayors of the three cities should get together and spearhead the committee, leaving the county out of the picture.

Pacelli agreed the mayors should unite in the hospital move, but believes supervisors would appoint a "fair" committee, all areas given fair representation.

The council, because of the absence of St. Clair when the matter came up, Monday moved to hold the matter over for more study.

Ryan's committee includes Pacifica Mayor Jean Fassler, Daly City school trustee Tom Noonan, and Bob Hunter, auditor for Daly City.

Hunter, appointed to his part-time post by Daly City councilmen, has been under fire from them for his affiliation with the Ryan committee despite the DC Council's opposition to Ryan's tactics.

Hunter has said that his only interest is to get results as soon as possible on the hospital drive, "whether it takes three groups or a joint effort."

St. Clair's resolution to the county seeks to have the supervisors appoint a committee of representatives from each city council and community and from professional groups (such as the physicians) who are working for the hospital in the area outside the existing Peninsula Hospital District.

Two Stop Signs Authorized In St. Francis Heights

Arterial stop signs at two traffic-heavy St. Francis Heights intersections were authorized by the city council Monday night on recommendation of Police Chief Roland Petrocchi.

The signs will be installed at the corners of St. Francis boulevard and Eastmoor avenue and at Southgate avenue and St. Francis boulevard.

Petrocchi also recommended that Southgate avenue be declared a through street from Westmoor avenue to St. Francis boulevard and that all streets intersecting with Southgate be provided with stop signs at the entrance of each intersection.

Councilmen also set aside $10,000 as the city's share of gas tax funds to be used in the forthcoming installation of traffic signals on Mission street at the Bismark and School intersections.

EL CAMINO AND COAST ROUTE

County's Greater Highway Group Asks Top Priority From State

A large delegation of public officials, civic leaders and members of the Greater Highway Committee of San Mateo County appeared before the State Highway Commission in Sacramento this week to urge that certain highway projects in the county be given top priority by the state in its construction program.

Assemblyman Louis Francis led the delegation by strongly requesting the state commissioners that the following local highway projects be rapidly completed in order to alleviate existing heavily congested conditions and also future traffic problems:

Continuation of the widening of El Camino Real through Daly City, South San Francisco, San Bruno and Millbrae.

Relocation and construction of the Coast Highway from the Edgemar Freeway through Pacifica to Pedro Mountain.

Completion of final plans and costruction for the 19th Avenue Freeway from the San Mateo Bridge to the new College of San Mateo site.

Francis told commissioners that a top priority must be given for the construction and development of the Coast Highway in the Pacifica area as soon as possible to alleviate the dangerous traffic conditions at the present time which will become worse in the near future.

He stated that the entire project had been estimated last year by the Division of Highways to cost approximately $9,250,000 for the complete construction through San Mateo County but that certain budget problems had arisen. It was pointed out that traffic on the Coast Highway had more than doubled since 1952.

Although a freeway location has already been adopted by the state from the south city limits of Pacifica, approximately one-quarter mile south of Linda Mar boulevard, to the junction with Skyline boulevard, one mile north of Edgemar, he said that only a few parcels of right-of-way have been acquired where building construction was imminent. It was emphasized by the state legislator that additional and necessary right-of-way parcels can be obtained for this future freeway only when funds are made available.

A freeway agreement covering this portion of the Coast Highway was signed by the city of Pacifica in October, 1958, and detailed plans are being developed while now in the design stage.

Francis also emphasized the urgency for the top priority and prompt action to construct the 19th Avenue Freeway connecting the San Mateo Bridge to the new College of San Mateo site and Skyline boulevard.

"One of the immediate imperatives is the need to provide in an orderly way for the large volume of automobile traffic which will enter and leave the College Heights campus of the College of San Mateo when it opens in 1962."

"In addition to 4000 day students, it will serve an even larger number of adults. There are no existing thoroughfares to the site. The college serves the entire county and is the only collegiate-level institution in the area," stated Francis.

He also said, "The completion of the 19th Avenue Freeway is crucial for the general development of the entire Peninsula. There is no modern cross-route, and yet the next major residential expansion is expected to be in the direction of the central coastside area."

Cleaning Firm Driver Sought In $206 Loss

James Tunis looked a "gift horse" in the mouth and may be nipped by police for it.

Tunis, 25, walked off his job at the Crocker Cleaners, 6215 Mission street, when owner Samuel Jacobson gave him one week's notice that he was to be released from his duties Monday. Tunis walked out of the shop, and accordin to Jacobson, took $40 in money he had collected on his truck route with him, the police report showed.

A further check of the books showed Jacobson was short $206 during the past three months, according to police.

The 50-year-old owner told police he had received three checks totaling $14.10 from Tunis via mail. Tunis said this all the receipts for the August 17 date. Jacobson told police that an additional $26 was due for that date.

Jacobson, 272 Glenwood avenue, gave officer John Van Otten the letter Tunis sent. The return address on the letter, 1742 The Alameda, Redwood City, is that of Tunis' brother or sister and the persons at that address said they haven't seen him during the past month.

Palisades Youth Injured As His Bike Hits Auto

A ten-year-old boy complained of pain and was taken to Junipero Serra Hospital by police car Monday at 2:30 p.m. when he became confused and steered his bicycle into a slow-moving auto.

Melvin D. Johnsarud, 354 Skyline boulevard, was making a left turn into his driveway and didn't see the car approach until just before hitting it. The auto was driven by Milton L. Vasquez, 136 Morningside drive, owner of the Folsom Auto Trim at 3200 26th street, San Francisco.

Vasquez told Officer Tom Culley, "The boy became confused and turned into my car while I was slowing down."

Moderate damage was done to Johnsarud's front bicycle wheel. No citations were given by police.

Alemany-Dorchester Two-Car Collision Injures Both Drivers

A two car collision at Alemany boulevard and Dorchester drive resulted in injuries to both drivers Thursday morning.

The autos of Miyoshi Hata, 43, a beautician of 36 Beaumont drive, San Francisco, and Denis Michael Weigand, 20, a laborer of 386 Higate drive, collided when the beautician attempted to make a left turn onto Dorchester, according to police.

Hata was brought to Junipero Serra Hospital by police car for a nose injury and Weigand was transported to Letterman Hospital by his father for a cut on his forehead and a possible back injury. Weigand said he couldn't stop when the woman turned in front of him.

Officer Richard La Bruzzo cited both drivers-the woman for not yielding the right of way at an intersection and Weigand for not having his driver's license in his possession.

Police Chief Reminds Student Bike Riders To Be Extra Alert

With the opening of school only days away, Police Chief Roland A. Petrocchi today reminded students depending upon bicycles for transportation of the responsibilities they assume upon riding in traffic.

"Bike riders must obey all traffic signals and signal stops and turns, as do the operators of motor vehicles. They should ride in single file on the right-hand side of the street at all times, and not against traffic," Chief Petrocchi said.

The veteran law enforcement officer also reminded automobile drivers that young Daly City cyclists will be joining the early morning traffic flow and urged them to show riders the proper traffic courtesies.

"Drivers should be alert for bike riders during the pre-school hours in the morning," he said, "and at all times when in the vicinity of schools."

The chief added that the city's bicycle registration program will commence during the first week of school. Traffic Sergeant Henry Sundermann has scheduled one or more days at each school to give students an opportunity for "on-the-spot" registration. Bike owners will be charged a fee of fifty cents, covering the cost of printing the registration cards and the reflectorized licence tabs. The license program is expected to curtail thefts and will enable the police department to return lost bikes to their owners.

Petrocchi also reminds drivers that state law prohibits any vehicle from passing a halted school bus from any direction.

CIVILIAN Marine Reserve Master Sergeant V. X. Craft, sergeant major for Marine Fighter Squadron-141, now on two weeks active duty summer training at Marine Corps Air Station at El Toro, California, supervises the bunk making of Pfc. Bill Witt, also of VMF-141. Bill resides in San Carlos, while the pipe-smoking Craft claims a 215 Bonita, South San Francisco address and a 6147 Mission, Daly City, business address. VMF-141 is at El Toro along with several other Marine Reserve squadrons from the West Coast and Mid-Western United States in a giant peacetime maneuver entitled, "Operation Ready." Normally, 141 trains one weekend a month at Oakland.

ARRESTS BEING MADE

Postmaster Cites Good Progress In Stamping Out Filth Peddlers

Postmaster Vincent P. Murphy of Daly City reports that the Post Office Department's drive to stamp out the activities of "merchants in filth" who solicit minor children for the mail-order sale of obscene materials is making substantial headway.

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield, he states, is taking increasingly effective actoin against this growing, nation-wide racket.

Summerfield has notified the local postmaster that during the fiscal year which ended June 30, 1959, the Post Office Department conducted more than 14,000 separate investigations of traffic in mail order obscenity, of which approximately 10,000 were based on complaints from parents aroused to the menace presented by "the vicious arrogance of the smut racketeers."

Actual arrests during the year, according to Murphy, totaled 315, a significant increase over the previous year, and almost double the number of arrests during 1957, when the Post Office Department was still hampered by inadequate enforcement legislation.

Prior to the summer of 1958, antiquated laws and liberal court interpretations — Summerfield prefers to call them "misinterpretations"—required that even the most blatant profiteer, sending the vilest possible material through the mails to school-age children, could be prosecuted only at the point or origin of the mail, usually New York or Los Angeles.

According to Murphy, the "liberal" courts in these cities established a definition of "obscenity" far different from views held by the majority in most normal American communities.

In 1958 the Postmaster General recommended new legislation to the 85th Congress, which would permit prosecution of such racketeers at the point where the mail was received, and where the actual attempt to corrupt children's moral and social health took place. Congress promptly responded to the Postmaster General's plea, and translated the recommendations into law.

Murphy reports that this new legislation is now beginning to bear fruit. The first case prosecuted under the new law was of a man and his wife on the West Coast, who were mailing obscene literature to youngsters in Boise, Idaho.

Thanks to the new law, according to Postmaster Murphy, these two were convicted in Boise, and sentenced to 10 years behind bars plus a heavy fine.

In another recent California case, a 10-year prison sentence was imposed on a criminal offender convicted of sending obscene material through the mail, in contrast to so many previous cases in that area when probation had been granted.

Postmaster General Summerfield pointed out in a recent speech: "This represents, in our opinion, real progress of the type which can readily be expanded, so long as we have determined public support, prompt and positive investigation, and vigorous prosecution."

Murphy states that the Postmaster General and the Post Office Department attribute this progress to the broad support for the campaign being given by the nation's newspapers and radio and television commentators, public spirited civic organizations, members of Congress, and more and more individual citizens.

Their efforts, according to the Postmaster General, are not only alerting the public but are arousing judges and law enforcement officers to act firmly against the menace this traffic in filth presents to the healthy and decent development of the nation's youth.

Van Nest Cites Comprehensive Parks Program

Dear Mr. Bradshaw:

Once again the annual summer recreation program has come to a close in our community. This year's program has been one of the most comprehensive ever presented in the city and school district. Without the combined forces of the Jefferson Elementary and Jefferson High School Districts, these activities would not have been possible. The splendid coverage afforded our department by Marchbanks Publications is sincerely appreciated.

The Town Record

By ROY HURLBERT

Three Daly City newspapermen (from this publication), 14 citizens and one builder were the "audience" the city council had Monday night for its regular meeting at 75 Wellington avenue.

This is a terribly appalling low turnout in view of Daly City's 38,000 - plus population and the recent turnover at city hall.

Citizens have only themselves to blame if they fail to exercise their rights to be heard and informed by the council on all municipal matters.

Running a $1.6 million business this year, the council has lots of power as a group with the taxpayers' money involved.

City councils everywhere toe the line more when they know their every action has to be accounted for — by the public at the time all city business is transacted.

City Attorney Paul Hupf, a much respected Westlake resident and former Marine combat officer, is temporarily in charge at city hall in the absence of a city manager.

Paul, who steers clear of politics and is one of those rare public servants, agreed, to fill in at the unanimous request of the council.

As a city councilman a few summers ago, Hupf was strictly objective in all decisions affecting city affairs.

The council, we feel, couldn't have entrusted the temporary duty to a more capable individual.

* * * *

City Auditor Bob Hunter, a part-time employee like the city attorney, last week insisted that the record be set straight:

"I am not a candidate for city council nor am I interested in becoming city manager of Daly City."

Apparently the rumors had been flying and Hunter wanted to refute them.

* * * *

Howard Gardner, associate director of the League of California Cities, Monday night told the council that Daly City's reputation for changing administrators is no less than notorious.

He said this factor makes the quest for a new city manager quite a "selling job" by the council. Professional administrators aren't much interested in a city that is a hotbed of political confusion.

Gardner also noted that most cities looking for a city manager do all the searching on their own. Only a few councils request the State Personnel Board to assist in securing qualified applicants. But state help is the best way from a professional standpoint, he admitted.

California has some 220 city managers. Highest salary is the $28,000 a year paid the head man in San Diego.

Millbrae last week became San Mateo County's fourth city to adopt a penny sales tax. Others enjoying the benefits of the levy are DC, San Carlos and Menlo Park.

Daly City, thanks to sales tax, has about $500,000 set aside this year for capital improvements. The property tax rate also is lower here because of sales tax.

Pacifica lost one of its pioneer councilmen last week via a requested resignation.

The gent, according to that community's newspaper, was embarrassing the council due to his heavy drinking and appearances in local taverns.

McQueen Cites U. S. Savings Bond Totals

July sales of U. S. Savings Bonds in Northern California amounted to $10,558,481, up 1.0% over the same month last year, County Bond Chairman George McQueen said here today.

"San Mateo county residents today own and hold more than $104,725,000 worth of Series E and H Savings Bonds, according ot U. S. Treasury estimates," he continued and pointed out that "the July sales are an important part of a steady building up of personal savings reserves throughout the county.

"Many of these individuals who own Savings Bonds would probably have little or no savings at all if it were not for the convenient, easy methods of purchasing Savings Bonds at banks or through the payroll savings plan at the place where they work," the county chairman said.

He also announced that county Savings Bonds sales for the month totaled $481,604 and noted that the Savings Bonds program during its 18-year history has built up a savings reserve of more than $42 billion worth of E and H bonds held by more than 40 million Americans.

JOSEPH Kusber (center) of Daly City displays fuchsia sweepstakes trophy he won last week in San Francisco Flower Show as he discusses plans for Daly City Garden Club's sixth annual flower spectacle, Sunday September 13, with Alfred Marquez (left) and Clair M. Juries In Injury Cases Become More Objective, Less Prejudiced

California juries which determine personal injury damage cases are becoming more representative of their communities and paying closer attention to facts, but emotion and prejudice still influence jurors to a significant degree, according to an informal survey of California county clerks and their principal assistants.

In a brief, four-question survey conducted at the 1959 convention of the California Association of County Clerks, with 53 counties represented, the questionnaires were filled out anonymously, with no county identification permitted.

Sixty-two percent of those in attendance felt that, in their counties, juries were representative of a cross-section of the community and such juries did adhere fairly strictly to the facts and the law.

Twenty-five percent of the officials indicated that they felt their juries were not representative of a cross-section of their counties. Exactly the same officials also felt their juries were guided more by emotion in reaching personal injury decisions than by facts or merit.

The remaining questionnaires showed answers to the four questions in combinations that made any interpretation appear to be arbitrary.

All county clerks or jury commissioners who work very closely with the judges in selecting jury panels have been attempting to cut down on "excuses" from jury duty, a spokesman for the county clerks convention said.

Insurance companies, pointing to rising jury verdict averages all over the country, frequently remind the public that, when serving on juries, they should stick to the facts of the case and not be guided by their emotions.

Personal injury jury awards, as well as all other accident claim costs, must be reflected in the rates paid for insurance by the public, the insurance companies point out.

Syracuse Man Joins DC Navy Recruit Office

Carl Book, chief commissaryman and 19-year veteran of naval service, has joined the Navy recruiting staff at 6705 Mission street, Daly City.

A native of Syracuse, New York, Chief Bok, 38, will team up with Chief Kenneth C. Gaddis who has been Daly City's recruiter since February this year.

Chief Bok's assignment, prior to reporting to duty here, was with the administrative command at Naval Air Station, Bermuda. He and his wife, Eleanor, returned from Bermuda last year and now reside at 111 South Mayfair avenue in Westlake.

Young men interested in Navy opportunities are asked to call either Gaddis or Bok at PL 6-3740.

18th Lucky For DC Recreation Staffer

Chuck Vincent, supervisor in the Daly City Parks and Recreation Department, calls the eighteenth of each month his lucky day.

On July 18 his wife, Betty, gave birth to Stephanie May Vincent and on August 18 he won second prize at Walgreen's drug store, a stereophonic high fidelity set.

The Vincents have three daughters and another son, Deborah, 10, Rebecca, 8, Laurie, 2, and Andrew, 5.

He Would Question City's 'Hospitality'

Michael Savage doesn't have much regard for Daly City hospitality after someone broke the right window of his auto and took a black, two year-old, 3120 Polaroid camera from his car.

Savage, from Corona-Del Mar, was visiting at the home of Ken E. Sale, 1046 Wildwood avenue, when the theft occured to his parked car in front of that address between 12 a.m. and noon Sunday.

Chris C. Leslie Of W'lake Completes Petty Officer Course

Chris C. Leslie, apprentice petty officer second class, son of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Leslie, of 20 Forest Grove drive, Daly City, graduated August 21 from Recruit training at the Naval Training Center in San Diego.

Apprentice petty officers are chosen from the ranks of the seaman recruits to assist company commanders. The selection is based on individual aptitude and leadership qualities.

HIS OWN best salesman, Marine Recruiter Dan Coleman is congratulated and receives his re-enlistment bonus check from his commanding officer, Lt. Col. R. L. Don't Starch Your Fingers to the Bone

Why starch, starch, starch every single washday? It can't be good for your clothes . . . and it isn't good for your hands . . . to twist and wring, twist and wring as you starch. PERMA STARCH cuts starching down to practically nothing—just one starching lasts thru 8 to 15 washings. That's because PERMA STARCH doesn't wash out—even in hottest water and bleach.

A new "second in command" has been selected for the 17th District of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers, Mrs. J. B. Mills, president, announced today.

The electee is Mrs. Foriest M. Cunningham of Daly City, who will fill the office of vice-president vacated by Mrs. August H. Johnson of San Mateo. District officers met in special session recently to accept with regrets Mrs. Johnson's resignation, prompted by an unscheduled change of residence to Monterey, and to seek a replacement for the important post.

In selecting Mrs. Cunningham, who has relinquished her position as district director of Parent and Family Life Education to Mrs. Joseph Checke of San Mateo, the district will be utilizing the talents of a person who has held many responsible offices in community, service and fraternal organizations of the North Bay County area.

As vice-president of the parent organization for all San Mateo County Parent-Teacher Associations, Mrs. Cunningham will serve as chairman of both the district relations committee and the office policy committee. Among the activities she will direct will be those of the program, hospitality and reservations chairmen.

In addition to her 17th District work, Mrs. Cunningham is currently serving as historian for the Vista Grande-Thornton PTA in Daly City and as an appointive officer of the Crocker Chapter of the Order of Eastern Star.

A past director of Organization, hospitality chairman and citizenship chairman for the District, she is also a former president of Woodrow Wilson PTA, vice-president of both Colma and Woodrow Wilson units and chairman of the Jefferson Elementary School District PTA Co-ordinating Committee. In addition she has filled many chairs for the several units to which she has belonged. The recipient of an honorary life membership from the Woodrow Wilson PTA, she recently represented 17th District as the counselor for units in the north of the county.

The new vice-president's duties have already commenced, and with Mrs. Mills she is making plans for a busy PTA year. The next district meeting will be held September 17 and the group is planning to participate in a two-day CCPT workshop and conference at Asilomar on October 19 and 20.

MARINE RECRUITERS GET RE-SUPPLY OF 'OUR FLAG' BOOK

The Marine recruiters here are very proud of the number of good people with that patriotic spirit. Several weeks ago an article appeared in the Shopping News stating that the booklet "Our Flag" was available at the Marine Corps recruiting office.

Due to the tremendous response from this article, many of the people who requested this booklet did not receive the number of books they desired. However, since this time "the Marines have the situation well in hand" with a re-supply of the books.

This attractive booklet gives a short authentic history of the American flag, along with rules for respect and display. It should be of interest to all Americans, but especially to merchants, school teachers and civic and patriotic groups. The free booklet is available at the Marine Corps recruiting office, 6705 Mission Street, Daly City, or by telephoning PL 6-4110.

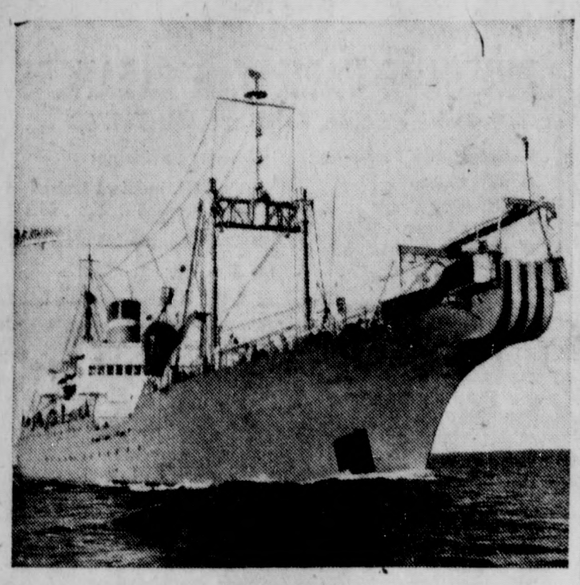
WHAT'S DOING

C. R. Johnson, your Telephone Manager in Daly City



Deep on the ocean floor, underseas telephone cables carry calls from this country to Alaska, Hawaii and Europe. A cable ship like the one above put them there — to stay. Just imagine the problems involved if anything should go wrong with one of these cables — sending out a repair ship, locating the trouble spot, fishing up the cable. It could cost as much as $250,000! So telephone engineers had to design all the tubes and tiny electronic parts that go into an underseas cable to work continuously for at least 20 years without attention. That's the kind of telephone know-how, backed by constant research, that makes your service more dependable . . . whether you call across town or across the world.

A lot of housewives around here will likely be this busy soon. But here's what I'd like you to notice . . . that extension phone on the wall. It's going to save this lady plenty of steps at canning time, and all those other days when pots need watching. Why not see us about a step-saving extension for your kitchen? Pacific Telephone

'CAVALCADE OF THRILLS' FAIR FEATURE

Authentic music will form an appropriate background for most of the 26 acts of the big "Cavalcade of Thrills" to be presented Sunday afternoon, September 6, at the California State Fair.

As the scenes unfold in front of the State Fair Grandstand, each act will have its own musical background.

But as it reaches its climax in the Civil War scenes—Blue and Grey clad cavalry maneuvering with drill team precision across the track and infield—the show will take on the aspect of an American operetta by presenting authentic American music set to American scenes.

Rail-Highway Crossings Said More Safe Now

Protection for motorists at the 72 remaining railroad-highway grade crossings on the main-line double tracks of Southern Pacific Company between San Francisco and San Jose rapidly is nearing the standard which the California Public Utilities Commission believes essential to public safety, Everett C. McKeage, Commission president, said today.

On the Peninsula, with some 90 high-speed trains daily traveling through a heavily populated area with a high volume of auto traffic, Commission engineers long have recommended that all crossings should have automatic gates. Now there are 63 gates at 72 crossings and three previous crossings have been closed.

"Automatic gates are the finest protection that can be provided," McKeage said, "unless a crossing is eliminated by an overpass or underpass. Motorists who drive around a gate onto the tracks or who ignore warning signals do so at their peril."

Every one of the 53 crossings from San Francisco south to Rengstorff avenue in Mountain View has automatic gates. Between Rengstorff and Cinnabar street, at the southern border of San Jose, 10 other crossings are protected by gates.

1,309,500 Factory Employees In California, July Survey Shows

Factory employment in California last month topped that of a year ago by more than 100,000, John F. Henning, California Director of Industrial Relations, announced today. This gain was chiefly a result of recovery by durable goods industries from the 1957-58 recession.

Total manufacturing employment of 1,309,500 wage and salary workers in July represented a gain of 100,900, or 8 percent, from the year-earlier level of 1,208,600. This increase in industries producing durable goods was 83,700, or 10 percent.

Within the durable goods group, largest employment increases were chalked up by the electrical equipment industry, up by 26,000, or 22 percent from a year ago, and by missiles plants, up by 13,600, or 34 percent. July employment in each of these industries was at an all-time high.

Next highest gain was recorded by the primary metals industry, which added 8000 to its payroll over the year.

The aircraft industry (with almost one-fifth of all factory workers in July) recorded a gain of 6700, or 3 percent, since July 1958. However, employment in this industry was still far below 1957 highs.

Recession losses were also not regained by machinery and automobiles despite year-to-year additions of 6100 and 5000 respectively.

In the nondurable goods industries, largest year-to-year increase was registered by the food processing group, up by 7700, or 5 percent, to 169,700 in July.

Between June and July of this year, a greater-than-usual rise in total factory employment of 25,000 chifly reflected seasonal expansion in canneries, and continued growth of electrical equipment and missiles industries.

Present at the press conference when we previewed the show were several of the distinguished participants including Gregory Bateson, Stanford School of Medicine and Dr. Jackson who is also Director of the Mental Health Institute. A group of dedicated men, they impressed us with their concern about the public apathy regarding mental illness in spite of the fact that every other hospital bed in the United States is occupied by a mental patient. They also stressed the need for more research on the problem.

Television proved an excellent vehicle to vividly and dramatically portray the problems of mental health and gave viewers "much food for thought." We do hope KPIX will have an opportunity to schedule the program again at a later date, because it is certainly a program that bears repeating.

REALTORS BEATEN

Christman Clutch Hurls Drugs To 4-3 Nipping Win

Terry Christman's clutch pitching set the O'Shaugnessy play-off winning Minucciani Realty down, 4-3, at Orange Memorial Field last week as his teammates socked 10 hits for the Daly City Drugs.

Christman weaved out of trouble in the final inning. The bases were jammed and Christman must have looked like Santa Claus to managers Harry Krohn and Les Creighton as he struck out the side, allowing but one walk and one run to score.

Minuccaini tallied twice in the third with a walk, three stolen bases and the aid of two errors. Christman struck out 10 and allowed only three hits.

Eddie Walthard opened the fifth for the Drugs by scorching a double past the realtors' left fielder. He moved to third on a bunt by Bill Hynes, the latter gaining life when first base was left uncovered. Dickie Schultz was sent in as a courtesy runner.

Schultz took second and both runners scored when Billy Hix receipted for his second base hit. Georgie Claus collected his third hit in four at bats to keep the rally alive and score Hix.

Skipper Crudo's double to right field scored Hix with the final run for the Drugs in the seventh. Tom Bournellis nine will meet the San Mateo Independents at Fitzgerald Field in San Mateo at 12:30 p.m. Saturday. They will return to Daly City's Marchbanks Park for an 11:30 a.m. tilt Sunday.

DUNNE BROS. STILL LEADING AT BELMONT

Pat Dunne, veteran half of the San Francisco Dunne Brothers team which has been sweeping the new NASCAR Claiming Race Division events, moved up on brother Tom in championship standings last week, but the brother team found a new and formidable challenger in Bruce Haack, Clinton, Iowa, who scored the season's first triple victory at Belmont Speedway.

Haack won his heat, the trophy dash and the main event, driving the car of Johnny Dart, Hollywood, who had suffered a broken leg a few days earlier. His point total, however, is only 29.

Point standings issued today show Tom Dunne leading for the state title with 152 points. Pat Dunne has 134, Emil Zola, Pacifica, third with 123.

NASCAR and Belmont Speedway officials announced that three top point men in the state and ten top point leaders at the Belmont track will get championship trophies when the season is over. Championship awards are being lined up at Santa Rosa Speedway, where the stock car claiming races also are held.

Eighty-two cars showed up for the seven heat races, trophy dash, semi-main and main events at Belmont last Friday night, the weekly programs gaining new entries steadily.

Drivers win positions in the main and semi-main by placing high in heat races. Purse money is paid only in the 20-lap main and 12-lap semi. Any car is subject to claim for $99 at any time during the program by fans or pit men.

First Tennis Tourney Proves Large Success

The first city-wide tennis clinic, which lasted 10 weeks, came to a close recently as 166 participants gained tennis instruction and experience from Len Beatie at Colma and Jefferson High School courts.

Tennis enthusiasts were grouped into four divisions according to ability and there was one adult group of eight women, said Beatie.

Last Thursday was examination day for the neophytes and "old pros" alike. The exam consisted of a written report on rules of the game, court etiquette and the fundamentals which were taught during the course.

The program was for beginners and advanced hardcourt players alike.

Beatie, 32-year-old Burlingame resident, has a vast background of sports knowledge ranging from active participation in football and boxing to coaching and instruction.

His list of sports endeavors includes winning the Northern California Amateur tennis championships, and playing football for Santa Clara and Monterey Peninsula College where he received his B.A. degree.

He also captured the Pacific Coast AAU Boxing championships and received a diamond belt for his welterweight activity. Beatie is currently assistant coach at San Francisco State under head man Joe Verducci.

He hopes to receive his master's degree from that college in the near future.

Beatie also served as assistant coach for the professional Green Bay Packers, Salinas Packers and Santa Cruz Hawks.

One of the funniest clowns in the country, "Jiggles," will entertain State Fairgoers all 12 days, September 2-13.
